Annual Report

2022-2023

The Future is Now

CHC brings equitable access to youth mental health and learning support along with specialized training and education for the mental health professional and educational specialist. Philanthropic support from individuals like you means a brighter future for young people who will thrive in our communities.

CHC provides mental health professionals who are multilingual and who come directly from the communities. They provide these services literally where the youth and their families are.

A Message from Our CEO

Looking back at the past 70 years, I am in awe of the dedicated group of individuals who collectively laid the groundwork for what CHC is today. Today, the vision of our founder, Esther B. Clark, MD, has not wavered, addressing our community's needs in innovative ways and promising a brighter future for a younger generation. Through philanthropic and community support in the 2022-2023 fiscal year, I am pleased to report that CHC made extraordinary strides in the areas of equity and access, excellence in evidence-based care, and community partnerships.

CHC is driven to widen access to specialized support and services. We are proud that our Catherine T. Harvey Center for Clinical Services provided nearly $900,000 in financial aid to help families access care. 80% of the students at Schwab Learning Center (SLC) at CHC received financial aid, and 35% of students at Sand Hill School received $25,000 or more in scholarships.

Professional expertise, demonstrated through high quality evidence-based care, is a pillar of our values and how we approach our work, requiring an investment in the development of future professionals. In addition to our existing offerings of doctoral and postdoctoral programs, we witnessed our first cohort of trainees through our new Ravenswood Wellness Partnership Training Consortium, bringing more culturally-informed psychologists into the field.

CHC continues to be agile and respond to community needs with a widened reach of SLC to serve high school students with learning differences and ADHD. We also launched affordable short-term therapy options for young adults, ages 18-25.

When local school district partners expressed concern on troubling trends on their campuses, CHC stepped in, providing tailored professional development for schools, and workshops for families within those schools. Over the past year, we expanded our partnerships with schools and supported learning specialists, counselors, and educators in many neighboring public school districts including Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Los Altos, and Ravenswood.

We are honored and eager to be doing this important work. The young people, families, schools, and communities that we serve are deeply grateful for your support. Thank you for your commitment to and trust in CHC.

With much appreciation,

A New Training Program & Young Adult Therapy

2022-2023 Addressed the Need for More Clinical Psychologists & Support for Teens & Young Adults

Inaugural Year of Ravenswood Partnership Training Program

With generous support from the Sand Hill Foundation, the Ravenswood Wellness Partnership (RWP) was formed in 2018 to work with community partners to increase access to culturally relevant and responsive mental health and wellness services for children and families in East Palo Alto and Belle Haven. In 2022-2023, with support from the Hearst Foundations and Sand Hill Foundation, RWP launched its Training Consortium Practicum Program in Psychology, with the first cohort of students graduating in July of 2023.

We are proud to partner with outstanding organizations like Children's Health Council to help ensure people of all backgrounds have an opportunity to build healthy, productive and inspired lives.

Paul "Dino" Dinovitz

Executive Director, Hearst Foundation

I can hardly express the depth of my gratitude for my time with CHC. It was an honor and privilege to serve this community, and I feel very fortunate to have had such strong training to back me in my efforts to support the amazing families of CHC.

Kurstyn Morley

Ravenswood Practicum Graduate

Building Support for an Underestimated Life Transition

CHC increased services in 2022-2023 to young people up to 25 years of age with its young adult therapy. In the same year, 562 students registered for the Schwab Learning Center (SLC) at CHC and 33% were first-generation low-income students. SLC services were also expanded for high school students.

It was also a year of elevating teen and young adult voices. In May of 2023, the Leadership Collaborative, a quarterly convening of local organization and community leaders, hosted a panel talk, "Elevating Youth Voice: The Intersection of Culture and Mental Health." Seven teens in the 11th and 12th grades representing different cultural backgrounds voiced their thoughts on mental health. And, in June 2023, CHC hosted a special live episode of Voices of Compassion podcast, "The Problem with Overcoming: Learning to Value Your Differences," featuring young adults and their journeys with learning differences.

Through SLC, I now understand better that the way I operate may be different from the way other people do. It has been very validating and has also helped me to understand how I can move forward.

I knew the statistics that learning disabled people were more likely to end up incarcerated, more likely to be homeless, more likely to have adverse life experiences. So I was like, statistically, this is what would happen [to me]. I was 11 and the world was ending...

Celebrating 70 Years of Service

We are grateful to the dedicated individuals who have contributed to the strength and resilience of CHC.

It all started from a Palo Alto nursery school in 1953 with eleven children, two staff, dedicated volunteers, and a bold vision. CHC founder and beloved neighborhood pediatrician, Esther B. Clark, MD, envisioned a place where families could find help for their children.

CHC became a beacon of hope for families needing specialized support. Through the extraordinary perseverance of our leadership and volunteers, CHC now serves 20,000+ individuals annually through education programs, clinical services, and free programming and resources.

We are deeply grateful to the former board members and leadership who have invested their time and treasure, making CHC an indispensable resource for generations to come.

Esther B. Clark, MD, 1980
Founder of CHC

I got the idea, a little naive, to have an area in the world where any child's needs would be provided for.

$70M for CHC's 70th Anniversary

In advent of CHC's 70th anniversary year (July 2023 – June 2024), the agency's board of directors and close supporters joined together to celebrate CHC and ensure its long-term sustainability. CHC and all of the families we serve are eternally grateful for your unwavering support and generosity.

Foundation & Corporate Sponsors

Our philanthropic partners are a reminder that we are truly stronger together. We are grateful to our foundation, corporate and sponsorship partners who ensured that all families were able to access learning and mental health services in 2022-2023. This list includes grants and sponsorships between July 1, 2022 through June 30, 2023.

PARTNER WITH CHC

CHC has definitely had an impact on the Sand Hill Foundation. In many ways it has been a model grantee in terms of the work performed and communicating the results with us. They value partnership which has deepened our relationship over the years. Plus, they are leaders in a field we really care about, so we respect their perspective and professionalism.

“

I was on CHC's board for 9 years and have been an Auxiliary member since the 1960's. I knew that I would plan for CHC in my estate because it was the organization I had worked with the longest. As a result, CHC is now a beneficiary of a percentage of my IRA. It's one of the easiest ways to make a legacy gift.
